

Hangul Vowels

Simple Vowels	“I” Diphthongs (vowel “i” added to simple vowels)	Other Diphthongs (combinations of various vowels)
아 a (father)	애 ae (hat)
야 ya (yard)	얘 yae (yam)
어 ǒ (hut)	에 e (met)
여 yǒ (yearn)	예 ye (yes)
오 o (home)	외 oe* (west)	와 wa 왜 wae (water) (wag)
요 yo (yoke)
우 u (broom)	위 wi (week)	워 wǒ 웨 we (won) (wet)
유 yu (you)
으 ǔ (taken)	의 ǔi (taken + we)
이 i (ink or beet)

The “O” written with each vowel is an unvoiced consonant which functions to indicate where an initial consonant may be affixed to the vowel when writing a syllable.

* In practice, the vowels oe and we are almost indistinguishable.
